Cleveland Bridge Builders (CBB) teaches mid-career professionals to effectively address social issues through collaboration.

Through team-based, hands-on learning, you'll gain a greater understanding of team dynamics and collaborative leadership, and learn how to lead when traditional hierarchical structure is absent. Apply your new skills and knowledge and have an immediate impact on the community by advancing a nonprofit's work through a team-led Leadership Action Project.

Learn alongside and work closely with diverse classmates who have a shared passion for change.

“This is so much more than a leadership development program; putting social good at the heart of the program makes it greater than any one of us. It makes it about improving each of us personally on the path to improving Cleveland.”
